

LOVE GOD

Confessions to Light and Life.

I am a sinner: I am not here to sway or convince you in one way or the other... I am a believer: I am not here to make you do or believe in anything... I am human: I am here with the hope of a mustard seed... I am forgiven: I am here to inform or, better yet, remind you that you do have a choice in all that is You.

You are a sinner: For we are all sinners from birth... You are a believer: For we all believe at one point or another, and I feel compelled to pass it on to You... You are human: I feel this is the message you have been waiting for, as I had been... You are forgiven: I feel the time has come, this is the choice you must make very soon before it's too late... otherwise, your choice will be made for you by your actions and not your intent.

Please share this with everyone; it's free. Someone you know might just need to read this now, especially in these difficult times we all find ourselves in.

God Bless You and Protect You

Preface

All I ask is with an open heart and mind...you listen and consider all perspectives in your life, no matter how certain we seem to be in ours, we will learn from others, always. Please put aside all your prejudices and bias that we have all formed throughout our life experiences. Please just read at least this Preface to understand the overall message within, in hopes that it will compel you to read further.

Only you can feel the truth within yourself to choose the path you want to be on, the positive or negative, with your own free will - a gift... from Nature, Science, God...

[Most importantly, I am of no importance... just the message within, nor am I looking for fame or fortune. My life took me to what I believe was hell and back, to be aware of the faces of sin in this reality. It is my belief, and it was God's will to show us the light and the dark, outside and inside. I have always longed to share this for some time now, yet have kept it within out of fear. Only recently out of signs, and dreams of what I believe is God's message, that I feel even more compelled to share the message given to me... with You!

Having come from a non-religious family, I have been doing background research into various beliefs and religions prior to releasing this book to make sure that the message given to me was in line with the words of our Father, that of Light and not the dark. Thankfully, and to my pleasant surprise, the message within has been spoken by many before me, throughout the ages, in one Book or another... Love.]

To Love God,

To do unto others as you would have done unto yourself

Ultimately, there is a mysterious power... unknown, unmeasurable, but yet it is there, and we know it, some of us feel it. With that in mind, whether you believe in Nature, Science, Energy, Coincidence, Yahweh, Abba, Allah, Buddha, Vishnu, God, or yourself... we are only now beginning to understand who our Creator truly is.

Fundamentally, there are positive and negative energies to everything in life, and we must navigate through these energies with every choice we make. And through that free will we can choose to be in the light or the dark, to love or hate, to change or to remain... It is your choice to believe or not. In short: God does not list our sins and, in the end, judges us after we pass, that is what the evil-devil wants us to believe—that we can keep making the same wrong choices... judgment comes the instant a choice has been made, which leads you closer or further from God, through your free will.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

One of your main purposes in life is to follow God's laws, and God's laws are clear. They were given to us by our Father through Moses and made one by our Messiah, Yeshua (Jesus). For there is one God, and one law to overcome all laws... LOVE. To Love our Father and to Do unto others as you'd have done unto yourself. Yeshua opened our Father's love and understanding to all his children, if only we would be open in return to His Love.

Anything outside of love is the word of man, derived from fear. As long as you believe, and fully, truthfully practice love with all, then all laws have been fulfilled. You can either choose to do unto others as you would have done unto yourself; To do what you would hope others to do for you should you find yourself in that similar situation (even though you would never be in that situation), to love and do the best for others, no matter the outcome, for it is God's judgment we should fear—then fully trust in God that his love will guide you if you would only let go but be vigilant.

On the other hand, if you do what is only best for you, no matter the outcome for all those around you, that will lead you further away from God. Eventually, you will not only lose yourself but your soul, that empty negative feeling will destroy you from the inside out despite your beautiful appearance shining for all to see—drowning in addiction to fill the emptiness within, only to spiral further into the darkness. Stop, and Choose Love, not for yourself alone, but for all those around you and be open to receive true love from others through our Father's Grace. One day at a time, for some the journey will be long, be vigilant, persevere, believe, and move accordingly.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Be Warned: This is a war for your soul, the closer you get to God, the closer evil will come to rob you of that light, for it fears losing YOU—not by supernatural forces, but through influences of all those around you. It is through these times you must have calm faith until the storm is over. Know that our Father is in control, let go of the reins, your negative energy, anxiety, depression... Instead, choose love and move with love in all that you do.

Know in the darkest hours that if you would open up to our Father, he is there waiting for You always, to love and help you through your dark periods. So, I urge you to sincerely ask for his help, with all your heart and soul. Make sure to always continue to do so, even if there is none given the way you expect, have faith for one day you will look back and know his mysterious ways, connecting the dots of his love and guidance, as you stand on the peak and look back at the valley, so long as you always move in love.

If someone wrongs you, do not fight fire with fire, for it will rob you of your peace, and you will only feed evil with that energy that it craves. Say this to those that have wronged you instead:

If you believe in God, even just a little, a word of advice from a friend

Every choice you make, even how you treat others

Brings you closer or further from God

God leaves it up to you to choose

I pray you to choose to love and forgive as I am.

Our Father is always waiting for you to turn to him, how can he help you if you do not believe in him... Not just by saying you do, but by following his one law, to love God and all those around you, to do unto others, what you would have done unto yourself—Show Him You Believe, First.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Pray when you feel the urge to do so, not only when it is required of you, for our Father loves that most of all, and do not be fooled to believe that only your 2 hours of faith or your donations alone will save you—for your love must be present always, in your selfless heart, in all that you do.

It is never too late to choose the path of light. Love is the light in the darkness you have been searching for all this time on your own. Focus on that light and remove the negative even when the darkness consumes your days, for that is when we transcend beyond ourselves, darkness, and evil... Always return back to the light.

“No one has seen God at any time. If we love one another, God remains in us, as his love has been perfected in us.” 1 John 4:12

No matter who and what you believe in, the foundation of all messages to all human beings has been to love, respect, and forgive, and that is the common message here.

Any way our Father's words will be interpreted by man if that interpretation isn't in or about love, then be warned that it is the word of man, and any thought or action without love is of evil and not our Fathers. The choice is yours to make from there... To follow man's fear or our Father's Love.

THE TIME HAS COME, THIS IS YOUR CALL TO LIGHT.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS TO MAKE...

New Testament: Christian/Catholics...

"One of the teachers of the law came and heard them debating. Noticing that Jesus had given them a good answer, he asked him, "Of all the commandments, which is the most important?" "The most important one," answered Jesus. "is this: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your strength.' The second is this: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no commandment greater than these." Mark 12:28-31

Old Testament: Judaism

"Don't secretly hate any of your neighbors (fellow human beings). But tell them openly what they have done wrong so that you will not be just as guilty of sin as they are. Forget about the wrong things people do to you. Don't try to get even. Love your neighbor as yourself. I am the Lord" Leviticus 19:17-18

1. Calm Faith

"Come near to God, and he will come near to you. You are sinners, so clean sin out of your lives. You are trying to follow God and the world at the same time. Make your thinking pure." James 4:8

You must build a calm faith within yourself first, no matter how difficult your circumstances or how much suffering you are currently going through. Especially in these times full of negativities both in our outside world and, most importantly, full of negative inside us. You must understand that it is not you, alone, against the world, even though it might feel like that at certain periods of your life, even though life has blinded us to the truth. This is hard to do, but in time love will find a way, turn to God, and ask for help to show you the way back home. He is there waiting for You patiently, and always. He will help if only you truly believe...

Not just by saying you believe, you must show Him you believe by showing love... to God, to yourself, to all those around you, and especially those who have wronged you.

No matter how far away you currently are from God, whatever life path you have been on, however, dim the light is within and around you, or how many times you have denied Him of your love. Have calm faith in the darkness you have placed yourself in that He will guide you out, one small step at a time, but do not be fooled that what You believe is the help you want... will be provided. Only, Move with Love, and be vigilant. For our Father knows the best way out of your current and future sufferings, if only you would continue to move with Love in all that you do, no matter the situation.

LOVE GOD

Worry about your day, plan for tomorrow, and leave the rest to God for ten thousand things that shall rise and fall without your worries, stress, anxiety, and all those other negative emotions that will not only hurt you in the end but for generation after generation of your line to come as well. Your children see and feel your suffering... When you begin to move in love, thereby moving for the best in God, Yourself, and Others, then the light will show the way.

Remember that evil will abound around you to sway you to lose your light... to tempt you back into the dark. For it is well aware that it has begun to lose the grasp that it has on You... so, it needs to squeeze a little tighter, to force You to turn away for God... From Love.

This is your fight with the dark, with evil...always fight back with love. Fill your life with love. The light (positive energy) is counting on You. Therefore, do not turn to evil (negative energy) but continue to love with calm faith in your heart no matter what, even if darkness rears its ugliness, and your love is lost from time to time... turn back to love. Always.

For all storms will come to pass, and at the end of your journey, when you look back at a distance you have covered, you will finally understand and connect the dots. Standing at the peak, looking back at the valley, only then will you see why all that has occurred has been for your overall good, even the bad moments. Be patient.

“Come near to God and he will come near to you. You are sinners, so clean sin out of your lives. You are trying to follow God and the world at the same time. Make your thinking pure.” James 4:8

2. One

LOVE GOD

"But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that in which we were held; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter." Romans 7:6

Ultimately, there is a mysterious power... unknown, unmeasurable, but yet it is there, and we know it; some of us feel it... With that in mind, whatever name you prefer to address it with; Abba, Science, Energy, Coincidence, God... we are only scratching the surface of who our Father is, who our Creator is.

Fundamentally, there are positive and negative energies to everything in life, and we must navigate through these energies with every choice we make, through our free will. One of our main purposes in this life is to follow God's laws, and His's laws are clear... They were given to us by our Father through Moses and made one by our Messiah, Yeshua - Jesus. For there is one God, and one law to overcome all laws... Love.

Love God

Love Yourself, Love One Another...

As long as you fully and truthfully practice love with all, then all laws have been fulfilled on Eden.

Our Father, through Lord Yeshua's sacrifice, has forgiven us all for our ancestor's sins... thus the influences of evil upon us all from birth. For our, Father gave free will to all his children, and in that free will sent his son Yeshua to show us the way to our redemption from the original sin... Our path to the light begins and ends with the One path, crossed before us, to light our way back home. Love.

So long as we turn back to the light, especially in our darkest hour and choose always to move with love, mercy to all, then in return, our Father's love and mercy shall abound for us.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

For that is all that matters, nothing more, even if you are alone with no love from man, so long as all your actions have been in good faith with love and mercy, then look up, have faith that he is holding you now, guiding you through the darkness for your overall good and removing all those in your path out towards the light. Making room for Love to rise within and around You.

Consciously choose to live in the light, and light through you. Ask God for forgiveness, confess your sins, and he will guide you if you will only notice and not be blinded by the needs and wants of man. Pray for his will to be your own, with the Calm Faith that his will is only loving for you, and all his children.

Even when he pushes those you think are helping you out of your life, most importantly, even when your prayers go unanswered...you have to that know there is the light that is working for your good over that mountain you must climb, know that you are not alone for Love is there, but this is a lesson you must learn, a strength you must gain, and a burden you must bear with calm faith.

Let love and mercy grow within you like a mustard seed into a mighty tree, guiding you through all suffering, as all sufferings are lessons. Find the root cause within or around you... Take time out of your day, especially at that moment, to reflect. (hint: A mistake isn't a mistake if you learn from it, then it is a lesson.) Remember: Love is the way, the only way to overcome evil, and the only path out of the darkness. If only we would stop trying to control every detail, as ten thousand things will always rise and fall without You.

As you move with love, always put yourself in the other person's position, perspective... how would you have liked to be treated in that situation and move accordingly? If you are wronged, see all things through the other's perspective first, and if you do not understand, then move on with your life in love, mercy, and trust that our Lord will not give up on anyone, even though their journey will be much longer, the further they are from God.

Show love and mercy to all those around you, no matter the situation or outcome, for you know not how difficult their life path has been to come across your present moment. You might be their miracle, never be their suffering. Have love and mercy in your heart and mind.

3. Call to Light I

"Put on, therefore, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, lowliness, humility, and perseverance."

Colossians 3:12

It is time to come together to fight all negative energies with the light of love and mercy as one. This war will be fought with your daily lives and interactions in your life path, alone with God. Be aware of your surroundings at all times; find companions in the light. Be wary for there are dark souls that walk amongst us, purpose-driven... These individuals have already sold their souls to the dark, and their sole purpose is to seed negative energy, to turn Light into dark... Understand that some of these people can be your closest friends, sadly, even family. Plant the mustard seed and Help God turn darkness into Light, but be vigilant and do not let yourself be taken advantage of. Help, but do not support their evil ways.

Always Love, Speak the truth, Forgive, and be vigilant against negative energy, and those influenced by that negative energy... you will feel it so long as you truly believe. This is your Call to Light, and the time is now for all the believers to come together under one God and battle the darkness that is consuming our humanity, our children's lives depend on us to rise in love, for evil abounds, everywhere. Don't be fooled; we are forced to accept this evil as a necessity in life. Was that not a warning in one book or another. You know it, feel it, see it, and hear it... For it consumes us all, at all times. It is being pushed on us this very moment. Resist.

Understand that the devil feeds on our misery, our suffering... in short, and the negative energy we give by the countless choices we make every day. The way has been shown to all of us, and love is the way. With the conscious choice of love and mercy towards all, we will begin to starve the dark (negative energy) and, in turn, feed the light (positive energy). Seriously, imagine a world where everyone around you is moving for your best interest in mind... Imagine the peace, love, harmony that would be on this beautiful Mother Earth... Gaia... Eden. Imagine your contractor finishing the job as requested at cost, imagine working with people who have no greed, just so long as there is a roof over their heads, and meal on their tables: health, Happiness, and Safety.

Work on making your inside beautiful first, not your outside alone... Do not judge, gossip, envy, boast... all with a beautiful smile, for all energy, comes from within, and God sees all. Love is the only way, no matter what. Trust when you are truly committed to love in all that you do, that the light inside you will grow, the way will be shown out of your darkness... but you must always move with love first.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Sometimes it will take much longer than others for the way to be shown, so long as you surround yourself with love and give love... especially in the dark times, then in time, you will see the light... promise. (As my journey took time to come to light finally). And your Call to Light will be tested... time and time again, for there will be more battles that are yet to come. Have Calm Faith in your beliefs. For our, God is loving and good and will be patient with you always in the darkness you have placed yourself in and the darkness inside you.

God does not list our sins and, in the end, judges us after we die; that is what the evil-devil wants us to believe---that we can keep making the same wrong choices and be forgiven after death... Father's judgment comes the instant a choice has been made, which leads us closer or further from God... through our free will. Therefore, Love God, move with love in all that you do towards the light, towards God.

The Light will build you up; The Dark will break you down.

“You, therefore, have no excuse, you who pass judgement on someone else, for at whatever point you judge another, you are condemning yourself, because you who pass judgement do the same things. Now we know that God’s judgement against those who do such things is based on truth. So, when you, a mere human being, pass judgement on them and yet do the same things, do you think you will escape God’s judgement? Or do you show contempt for the riches of his kindness, forbearance and patience, not realizing that God’s kindness is intended to lead you to repentance?” Romans 2:1-4

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

4. Negative Energy

"Hatred does not cease through hatred at any time; Hatred ceases through love. This is an unalterable law." Buddha

Fighting fire with fire, feeding negative energy with another negative one is exactly what the devil wants you to do; it is exactly that which it feeds upon. Therefore, by those negative choices, we only add fuel to that evil, feeding it, allowing it to grow and, in turn, infect those we love, especially our children.

By treating the wrongdoer, the same as they have given unto you, you only add to the hurt and neglect, that is already within both of you. Be the first to show love and mercy, be the first to build up and not break down, be the first to show there is another way, be their light in the darkness... that is your purpose, to show that there is another way. Love.

For it is far easier to hate than to love, so be the stronger one and step up with love. That is your Call to Light. As the years come to pass, darkness has been embraced and has flourished, while we sit idly by accepting the change even within ourselves towards others, while the light has been slowly diminished within your soul and numbness prevails towards all things in life. Lost souls unknowingly searching for love from all, only to find lies, and negative emotions. Evil whispers.

In turn, with the bite of darkness that consumes our lives, we, in turn, albeit unknowingly at times pass on that very negative energy to one another so easily with no consideration, nor reservation. Our children absorb this negative energy the most, which we, unfortunately, transfer to them by our daily interactions. We build negativities within ourselves from ten thousand things and release negativity to find normality. To spread the love so readily to one another in everyday life seems difficult, even unreal... yet its counterpart hate (negativity) is so easy to pass around to all.

Yet his command has been given; a choice must be made within your heart and soul, light or dark... we must find the way together. To do unto others what you would have done unto yourself... The Word has been given, the Call to Light has been cast, and the time has come to make your choice.

Remember: For each of us is the light to each other, the way... that knowledge has been lost in no small part due to evil life. Good and evil, positive and negative work through all of us, we are their vessels by the choices we make and the influences they provide. So, let us end this negative back and forward in a never-ending vicious cycle that will only drain you of your limited precious energy, robbing you of your rest and constantly bombarding you with negative energy on a daily basis, which will become our end sooner than later... in one form or the other.

Therefore, love yourself even for all your flaws, for there is always rhyme and reason to all that occurs and those flaws... are your strength in disguise; do not be blind, think, and embrace in your strength, your beautiful soul, and trust in our Father's will to get through it all. You must choose the light with all your being, by your own free will, or choose to deny the light; the choice is yours to make. That is what the message has been from the beginning, yet most of us have been blinded by birth to this truth, that it is a conscious choice, through your free will. I pray you do not wait for the hour of your death to turn to him, should our Father decide that is the way for your lessons to be learned.

Be Warned: Trust also that if you choose the negative path, it will eat you up from the inside out, very slowly, so you won't even notice it until one day, in the end, you will not recognize who you are, or remember who you were. You will become a shell of your former self. There will most definitely be emptiness within you that no amount of respect, fear, or money will fulfill. Trust in that. I have been there. You will try your best to fill/numb your emptiness, but it will always remain until you fully begin to move in the light with love.

That is where you must take a stand, be firm, and committed for a better life with all your soul, plead to God to forgive your sins, and even afterward if evil will abound to tempt you back, to sin, pray and turn to love, to the light... Like our Lord Yeshua, we must fight evil and choose love, follow his path to see the light.

As mentioned before, there might be times when you lose sight of that light in the process and delve into deeper external, internal struggles, do not be disheartened, go with the flow... but change your ways, pray, and move with love, take your time, for God is showing you the negative in your life. That which is broken and must be mended. Be diligent, vigilant, and persistent in following the path of light no matter the circumstances.

Understand what is causing the negative feelings within and around you; it is then that the Holy Spirit within you is telling you what is wrong. You know it deep down inside you, you know what I am talking about, and you know that what I am saying here is true, and only you will accept or deny, by your own free will. Listen. Make those changes for the better, small steps, work hard, and do not be disheartened when you might break a little in the process, each sin has its price to pay to get back into the light, for we must break our old selves to build anew in light.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

I pray that you heed these words soon and do not choose to go further into the darkness for the road back will be longer. Pray every day, whenever, wherever... for a new day, a new beginning. Speak the words to God out loud in Calm Faith. By doing so, you have planted the mustard seed and know that God will take care of the rest even without your knowledge... it shall be done in due time.

Those who have wronged you or have chosen the negative path are only digging themselves deeper into the darkness, going further away from the light. Remember, darkness loves company, so look away while you climb out. Most important, always help but be aware that others don't take advantage of your kindness and love, for there will always be others who will want to drain your energy for their pleasure and to fulfill their purpose in this life, by destroying yours. Fulfill yours instead, and Be Vigilant against the darkness surrounding your life right now. Always Move with Love in your Heart and Mind in all that you do, in all the changes you make in your life.

In this life, we have been taught if someone bites, bite back harder, but I say to you what good will come of this back and forth other than surrounding yourself with chaos, negative energy, and restless nights. I say to you, why do we even bother giving our precious time to such ugly things, do we yearn to have that ugliness in our lives? Do You?

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Then speak the truth to those that have wronged you with the words of love, forgive, but do not look back, move forward. For even in your darkest days, the light is with and within you, always, close your eyes, and feel, even if it is just a mustard seed, nurture it to grow within and around you. There are support groups, find someone to communicate with, to support each other in your path to light.

Do not become warriors of the dark for You are warriors of the light, grow in numbers against the dark... it is our turn to shine and light the way in the dark for others, bring back to the light... this is your Call to Light, your call to follow our Father's command. He is asking you Now. To be the light for him in your community, to show those that you love and care for. God is waiting with open arms and love for you. For your time has come to make a choice... what shall it be?

It is one of our main purposes in life to help those among us in the dark, not with brash fervor but a gentle, calm faith, kind words, love, and at times from a distance for they must not be forced. Let them choose. Let them know that compassion and suffering abound by what we choose, which will affect not only within us but towards all of humanity. So, choose compassion over suffering, love over hate, light over darkness, and good over evil. We must work on helping all around us understand they are beautiful first on the inside and that the outer things are only ten thousand things that shall rise and fall... but not eternity.

5. Be Warned

LOVE GOD

“Answer me when I call, God of my righteousness. Give me relief from my distress. Have mercy on me, and hear my prayer” Psalm 4:1

Evil abounds, when you choose to get closer to God, do not be fooled for evil will not be direct. Open your eyes to see those around you; look at their actions. Their words might be roses with thorns, be wary not to bleed. If you do bleed, listen to your spirit, it will direct you to what is wrong (if only you would take the time to listen and reflect quietly).

When the voice within you speaks of love and mercy, follow that, choose that above all else, it will not steer you wrong.

The moment you realize the love and light has been overcome by negative energy, you must tell yourself to stop and realize what is causing these negative emotions, for we are human and never perfect. Work on fixing these issues with love and mercy towards yourself and all others around you. During that time, make small steps in correcting what is causing you to feel negative. Always keep in mind that there is a silver lining to all things that you see as negative in your current life... find that positive, the light, trust in that.

Once out of the initial storm, should those same negative emotions arise again, know that you must find the root cause and do not simply fix the superficial, understand the lesson being taught; otherwise, it will rear its evil head again until the lesson has been learned.

Do not fear the darkness. For it is in these periods that you can begin to break down the darkness within and around you, choose to change yourself towards love, and mercy for all. Create a new you in love and mercy, the peace you will experience will amaze you, but it will take time, so persevere.

LOVE GOD

"And Ask for forgiveness of your Lord and repent to him. Indeed, my Lord is merciful and loving." Quran 11:90

"Come to me, all you who labor and are heavily burdened, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28

Confess, Commit, Create.

Pray when the need arises, anytime, anywhere, for our Father loves that most of all. Apply Calm Faith through it all, with the full knowledge that this too shall pass, as we are made in his image, through each trial we bear. It is always through love and mercy that will bring you back to the light again.

This message was written for You. Ask our Father for help with all your soul... find a place to cry, scream, tremble (as I did), but confess to Him and accept that you have broken the law, and in turn, have become broken yourself, as we all have. Confess to Him, ask for mercy, for love, for guidance, but do not be disappointed when he does not answer if you just call out to him, it must be done by your holy spirit-your heart, soul, from every cell in your being, everything that is You, and pledge to make every choice from that moment forward with love and mercy towards others as you would have done unto you. Show Him you believe, Show Him that you love. Show Him even when you take steps back.

Even if it gets darker still (as it did for me), you will come to know that our Father knows us fully, more than ourselves actually, and the reality will be influenced by our

LOVE GOD

Father to bring you to light if only you would have calm faith and believe. You have dug yourself in a hole for all these years, your whole life up to this point. Do you honestly expect it to be filled overnight... what lessons will you have learned then, and surely the sins shall continue in the morrow. So be open to change yourself and your ways.

[Be open to God's grace, for he loves us all, even the lost souls, like myself. The broken who has kept taking the wrong path going further away from God till there was nothing but pure darkness and cold emptiness. When I truly looked, confessed my sins to our Father, asked for his mercy, for his love to help this broken soul find the light again. A soul who hated God for a very long while... One who has many regrets in life, but our Father's light was there, as it had always been, I just didn't truly pay attention to it. I didn't want to pay attention to it. My path back was hills and valleys, a very long journey with many lessons but none more important than His Command in which Lord Yeshua mentioned it best I believe in all that I researched in Mark 12:28-31 and amazingly all other religions stated the very same thing as their core principle. So why are we so divided when, in essence, we believe in the same foundation? Because of the man out of fear... when the only position they should be worried about is what is in their hearts, for our Father knows all, even those with selfish intent. Always Move with Love.]

“So, you should look for the Lord before it is too late. You should call to him now, while he is near. Evil people should stop living evil lives. They should stop thinking bad thoughts. They should come to the Lord again, and he will comfort them. They should come to our God because he will freely forgive them.” Isaiah 55:6-7

6. Call to Light II

"But he was pierced for our transgressions. He was crushed for our iniquities. The punishment that brought our peace was on him, and by his wounds, we are healed." Isaiah 53:5

So, let us be the light in this life, and watch the world change slowly. This is what your soul is yearning for, to fill the emptiness in these times of lies, hate, anger, deceit... yet in search of love, mercy, truth, and loyalty, but it must start first with you before you see it in others. How can you be a liar/cheat and expect truth/honesty from others? How can you hate but expect others to love you? It makes no sense. So, it must begin within you, and you must sacrifice, give in first, and know that there will be trials each of us must bear with calm faith, each with our own unique path to the light in the dark.

Like Yeshua, we must all go through our trials with evil, on one level or another depending on where we are from the light. Overcome the darkness with love and mercy in our hearts, Our Lord has shown us the way, but we must be strong to follow the path already set before us. I have been shown that love and mercy is the only way to get closer to God and Heaven, especially here on the rock.

The Call to Light has begun for evil abounds, and it is our responsibility, our duty, our purpose to show the light (positive energy) to all in the face of overwhelming darkness (negative energy). Love, Mercy, Kindness, Care unto others; this is the way to fight evil with positive energy. For evil cannot fight Love... such an uncontrollable positive force is unknown to the devil.

LOVE GOD

It is easy to love those that are kind to you, but it is another thing to love those that hate you. That is holy. It is this; one most loves those that do not love you; that is the path of light. As you expect him to love, forgive and accept you after you have sinned, so must you love, forgive, and accept others and their sins.

Please understand that there are degrees to love, a love that understands another person's life path, respects that journey's opinion, and to love how you would hope they would love you, and then react that way, with Love.

Remember, so many lives from birth have seen dire conditions unimaginable... hell on Earth, so how can you expect everyone to know the same light and love that you have seen. Many (maybe you) had to do such things to survive, without love or light, but hate and darkness from birth. How can we expect love unknown, this is where warriors of light must introduce love into their life path, show them what love feels like, be sincere, honest, and true in all interactions. These are the souls who yearn the most to find the light, to feel unrelenting love. If only all of us would dare but for one moment to think about these words and consider this ethos sincerely, imagine a world full of love does not hate, loving you in all ways, supporting you in all ways, where we all do what is best for one another. That is the key we must establish as our Call to Light, a network of support, for one warrior, can battle only for so long on their own, and must rest to fight another day. This is also where those we help, slip back into the dark, for there is no net-work to catch us when we fall. The true church is too few and far between.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

For negative occurs when others don't value your beliefs, your right from wrong, thereby lessening your value. You are no longer equal in their eyes.

This is not the way, all this hate, judgement, closed-mindedness, negative energy... Evil wants us divided... God did not, but still gave us all free will to choose. For he does not want us to be forced to love and forgive, but choose to love, and forgive.

Many say that will never happen, and give up without even trying to change. For it is easier to hate than to love, it is easier to sin than to have patience. It is easier to make an excuse than to commit. It is so much easier to slowly become evil in our ways when all those around us consider it normal... then to go against the current... and to Love.

[We can live in that reality of love, if only we would give it an earnest chance, to say enough is enough. Let us start having honest civil discussions together. The technology is there for good, yet we use it for nefarious reasons. Find a common middle ground, for having it completely our way would be hypocritical when we expect others to conform to our beliefs and we won't even earnestly consider their perspective or change our ways even after recognizing our mistakes out of pride, ego, selfishness... Therein lies our problem. Left, Right, Black, White, Gay, Straight, Rich, Poor. Is this truly what we choose? to hate, gossip, judge, boast... Is this truly how you expected your life to be... to not love or trust, to feel empty, anxious, depressed... are all those negative emotions inside you screaming out at you? Is this future we are building for our children acceptable to you?]

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Break this prime and only mortal sin, and judgment shall be swift. Choose wisely, you have been warned as God is my witness, for time is near. Believe and follow in the path set before us by our Father above, for he is on the horizon.

[Reminder: I tell you now that it is through every choice we make, every action we take, even how we treat others that brings us closer or further from God.]

God does not value your worship if it is only practiced for two hours on occasion; he does not only accept your money, donations, or deeds for your sins to be forgiven. The sacrifice has already been made; the command given... what is important to him is that you move with love always, what is in your heart in all that is you. First, choose God's command... It is through your light, your good words, thoughts, and deeds onto others that show him you believe. For he knows all, even what is in your heart. Unspoken.]

“Most certainly I tell you, whatever things you bind on earth will have been bound in heaven, and whatever things you release on earth will have been released in heaven.” Matthew 18:18

7. Path of Light

“Silence the angry man with love. Silence the ill-natured man with kindness. Silence the miser with generosity. Silence the liar with truth.” Buddha

Why is your spirit in fear of what others might think or say about you? Worry only that your soul might be lost forever in evil. Follow the path of Truth, Honesty, Love, and Mercy always, in all things. Remove the lies, hate, envy, all negative emotions that are heavy chains that bind you. This will take the time, of course, but the weight shall get lighter every day. If only you would Confess, Commit, Create.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Should you catch yourself releasing negative energy, feeling negative within, or allowing others to neg you... Just Stop, it's as simple as that to fight evil, the very moment you realize, Stop. That is what our Father is looking for, will you continue or will you say Stop! This is not the way... this does not feel right. That is all that it takes, simply stop, and choose love.

Nothing will change until you choose to change. I pray for all souls to one day understand how special each of You is, even all that you have been through, even the most unworthy, like myself... know that your life path can always be redirected, to have a purpose, meaning... it is up to you. Choose love and mercy towards others.

Help.

It is Your main purpose here on the rock to help so many other people that are going through similar things that you are or have gone through. No one else can help those lost souls, those poor children, but You, for I know not your life path and lessons. God has chosen You to experience your suffering, then to find the light, in turn, to help all those around you suffering from the same... as I am hopefully trying to do here for you.

God has placed you where you must be, however difficult for you... for you are stronger than me, and everyone else in your reality, for only you, can endure your current circumstance. No one else can be "in your shoes" to accomplish your mission... for God has chosen You for this purpose. Know that only your spirit is able to go through your struggles and no one else is battle-tested, only You know how best to protect or help those going through the same. Be their teachers of the light, those souls depend on you, and in turn, be the light to all those around you in his name, become the new warriors of the light, for our Father works through us all. That is one of our main purposes in life... To take pride in helping one another, not in stepping over others to get ahead.

Help all those that are willing and want your help; there will be those that don't, those who will resist; there will be those that will use and abuse you... simply tell them, and all those that have wronged you instead...

If you believe in God, even just a little, a word of advice from a friend

Every choice you make, even how you treat others

Brings you closer or further from God

God leaves it up to you to choose

I pray you to choose to love and forgive

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

I am not saying negativities will never occur for evil will always exist until its time has come. I am saying that the moment you realize the negative, choose the positive in that darkness, and there is always a positive, for that too shall come to pass. God allows suffering, so you yearn for love, to learn, to grow stronger, and to choose love always when it is afar. So many of us are broken, hurt, suffering both on the outside and in, battles we should not go through alone, that was not God's will, but evils intent.

[My wife came home one day as I was writing this treatise and told me that as she was leaving for a friend's house, she made the cross for protection something she had not done in such an occasion before but felt compelled to that day. Thank the Lord she noticed a small car approaching from her right side exiting the freeway at full speed and felt that the car would not stop as it was her right of way, with the car horn and breaks screaming, she is unsure how she did not hit the elderly gentleman immediately in front of her, both in full stop with only an inch of difference. Had they hit each other, the elderly gentleman would have surely died, the front of her car stopped in front of the driver's door. Without a word or even turning to look at her, the elderly gentleman drove off. My wife in anger wanted to follow but realized what good would that do but bring more negative to an already negative situation, and he had obviously realized his mistake by the way he drove off. I told her she did the right thing, for God only knows what that man was going through, he could have been influenced by evil, or he was rushing to reach his wife who was taken to the hospital, even for himself, or like me, passing through all red lights to get home to see my brother who had just passed away... I am not justifying that action, and it was foolish above all else to all those innocent souls I might have caused harm in my moment of despair... again a negative influence where I choose incorrectly.]

Therefore, always look at every action, decision, with love and mercy, and our Lord will do the rest, for not one injustice will be left unaddressed, not one. Have Calm Faith in that fact when you accept the Call to Light.

"You, therefore, have no excuse, you who pass judgement on someone else, for at whatever point you judge another, you condemn yourself, because you who pass judgement do the same things. Now we know that God's judgement against those who do such things is based on truth. So, when you, a mere human being, pass judgement on them and yet commit sin yourself, do you think you will escape God's judgement? Or do you show contempt for the riches of his kindness, forbearance, and patience, not realizing that God's kindness is intended to lead you to repentance? Romans 2:1-4

Mercy Prayer:

I am a sinner Father, I feel lost and broken, having lost my way, I now choose love over hate. Forgiveness over revenge. As the former ways only brought me more trouble. I will choose to love all those I encounter, or leave them with loving words even through the most difficult of times, even if it breaks me, for I know you are with me, your love and mercy abound in me, and through me in your name. Bring light into my life so that I may pass the light to those in need. May your will be my will. I will not fight fire with fire, I will not become like them, but move with love, so they move closer to you Father, for that is my purpose here. Let me be your vessel to plant mustard seeds in all those I encounter, and trust that you will water and nurture its growth into a mighty tree. Forgive my sins as I forgive those that sin against me. Amen.

Remember: The path may be difficult for you. That is not a sign that you are too far gone or weak, but there are lessons still to be learned, and evil is hell-bent on bringing you back, for it favors you most of all, especially in fear of losing the grasp it already has on you. Don't lose yourself in that time, for that is when evil is succeeding. When you feel empty inside, your flame is being extinguished, killing you softly, for your light is unique and special. A light that belongs in the light, and yearns for love and mercy. So, fight harder against the darkness, acknowledge that you are in a dark place, and believe that love does exist and has always been within you, and always will. Trust God will lead you through the darkness, trust yourself, trust your heart, trust your intuitions on what is right and wrong, then Move.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

Confess and ask for God's help, and be open to all signs and occurrences around you, for there will be messages from above. The song you hear, a brief encounter, coincidence, the feeling that brushes past you, a brief instance of pure love, buzzing warmth... Be alert.

Each of our journeys to reach God will be different, but the fundamental lessons are all the same, each of us will go through the same sufferings, but to a lesser or higher extent than the other one, depending on our unique life path.

Evil will do all sorts of things, but if you have a love of God, then know you shall stand back on the peak again soon. Have faith, believe that our Lord is there holding you in his palms, trying to protect you as you learn the needed lessons, then you know no matter what, like any storm, very soon the sun will shine again, this too shall pass. Get unstuck, always move, take action, but also... Reflect.

When you truly believe, you will see things begin to happen in and around you ever so slightly, as you take more notice, the stronger it will become. At the time, you might feel their losses, or quietness, do not be alarmed, this is a test period for you to become a better version of yourself, and which path will you choose? Just like all those ten thousand things shall rise and fall, so shall evil, let it be and trust in our Father. When you are open, truly open to the experience of light, you will feel, you will start noticing yourself, and things around you change, that is when you must trust your intuition, it will be weak at first, just slight suggestions, but if you believe and have faith it will provide you with foresight beyond your imagination, you will begin to feel other people's energy's both positive and negative, you will begin to sense, and connect...

Cherish the good times, fill every moment with love.

Embrace the downtimes, for that is when God is with you the most, trying to tell you something needs to change, and only you know what that change is. We, as brothers and sisters of this world, must create every and all opportunity of help and support one another through these times, so anyone going through difficult times has the assistance and guidance to better each other's lives.

I am not here to tell you what to do, what to believe; I only provide you with a message given to me. The time has come to make your final decision, light or dark?

Which do you choose?

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

[Whichever the choice, I am only tasked to plant the mustard seeds, for our God, our Father loves YOU and hopes through these words you will choose light, love, and mercy for all those around you, to show him that you believe, especially within yourself. Should you have chosen the dark keep it in the back of your mind, should it ever get too dark, He is there, waiting for You. Confess and Commit. Anytime. Anywhere.]

As you read these words listen to your heart, what is it telling you to do, if it is telling you to stop reading, then may God be with you always, if it is telling you these words were written for you, if it resonates, then follow through with your heart... follow through with a new pledge, a mercy prayer, a confession and commitment to Love, always. Love God, Love Everything. We have days for every occasion, can we not create a one day out of the year where everybody does unto others as they would have done unto themselves? To be fair, just, kind... To love one another. That's how we start to change, one day at a time.

Our Father is waiting for you to come home, to choose to come home, to choose to love, to choose to forgive your brothers and sisters, especially all those who have wronged you, not for their sake but for yours. That does not mean he wants you to forget your wrongs, or those that wronged you, for those wrongs made you who you are today, lessons to become stronger, more loving, more forgiving, as you grow closer to God's loving grace for You.

8. Perspective

“Teach this triple truth to all: A generous heart, kind speech, and a life of service and compassion are the things which renew humanity.”

Buddha

Please understand just as you have had your life's journey to this point in time, so have countless other souls that come in and out throughout your life's path. Each with their own experiences and perspectives that should be respected, as much as you would like yours to be respected by them and everyone else you speak with. So, you must do the same, always be first to love, instead of being the second to hate. Each life path with its unique experiences, suffering, and joy that you could not even come close to fathom.

Suffering and Life Experiences: Where you might have brushed over one incident, another soul might dwell on the matter to the depths of their being or vice versa. With that in mind... who are we to judge, who are we even to try to comprehend or compare. Instead, we must sympathize with each life path, for we know just like ours, it has been with suffering. We must listen, We must forgive, and We must love.

Understand that only by being open to hear and see each life path with common respect can we take the next step to enlightenment. Without pointing fingers at each other, but to respect each other, to first listen, not from our perspective but that of the expresser, then calmly relate our perspective and hope to find common ground with love and mercy in return. We must first find the middle way together. I pray that you fully understand, it will never go your way, every time, for each life perspective holds its own truth, and it is only when we open ourselves to understand this point can we find common ground to move forward as a society, or better yet learn and change our ways if we are in the wrong, for we will never always be right, and that is foolish to believe that you are, that is ignorant at best, ego at worse.

With Calm Faith, Civil Discussions, and Common Understanding... Even when we do not agree, know that a seed was planted, and give it time to grow in the other. Anything is possible, days, weeks, and years later... and one day, when we have a civil discussion again on the same topic, we will be more open than the first time. Trust.

The time to change our path towards love and mercy is now more than ever. Unfortunately, we have chosen to judge, to gossip, to boast, to envy, to pride ourselves in comparison to one another, and it's not bad enough that we fake ourselves... but towards God too. How can we call ourselves believers if we act in such ways? Show Love

Always for when you do, then know that God is with you.

Even if it breaks you. For you are doing His will and His command to us. In that find Glory, and His Grace.

It is not who you are, but who you choose to be! Do not be fooled for when you are near our Father's love... Evil will abound to blind you with negative energy from all those around you, to tempt you to sin, and to lose faith again. To turn you away from the light. So, forgive, Overcome, and Let be for our Father will judge accordingly, and that is all that matters, not the wicked tongues of man but God's Love.

“So, brothers and sisters, be careful that none of you has the evil thoughts that cause so much doubt that you stop following the living God. But encourage each other every day, while you still have something called ‘Today.’ Help each other so that none of you will be fooled by sin and become too hard to change.” Hebrews 3:12-13

9. Common Core

“One who walks with wise men grows wise, but a companion of fools suffers harm.” Proverbs 13:20

I ask this of you, where has common good, respect, courtesy gone?

Do you understand and agree that not everybody will fully understand your way, as you won't fully understand theirs, but outside your private lives, could we not respect that very fact and to act accordingly towards each other?

Not that we are wrong for our beliefs, but we fully understand that we all have unique perspectives in what we believe is right or wrong in this life, and could we not out of common respect for each other agree to that fact and move on? Just for a moment, imagine walking out of your house, and the majority of the people you encounter in your daily lives approached you with your common good in mind. All it takes is small steps to cover large distances, for change occurs with small steps—a Common Core to begin.

Reflection: I am certain that all of us will agree just as we don't want to be judged for our beliefs, that if we approached and carried ourselves with the common path in mind, that alone would open new doors to understanding for us all—a foundation for civil discussion. There have been countless times just by listening to another's perspective, I have changed my mind without them even asking me to, that does not mean my belief was wrong, for it was right at that time, but having learned something new, something I wouldn't have even thought of on my own, I myself have progressed, become wiser, gaining from the experience of someone else's life path. Call it a catalyst, a short cut, an advantage in this life. Is that not why we are here on this rock, the sole reason why our ancestors survived, so what happened?

We have become too sure of ourselves that we now believe all this was our doing alone, not even factoring the truth into that equation until it's too late. Do not let our egos get the best of us, our children, our humanity, and our Mother Earth. We are at the crossroad, and the final decision on which direction we take is coming to a close... The drums are beating... the event is on the horizon... I am sure you have seen one sign after another lately.

So, let us first come together as a society under the common good for all, hold civil discussions on all matters in this reality of ours, to find the middle way for civil society, one that is based on love, respect, and mercy, nothing more. Change won't happen until you change from within yourself

LOVE GOD

first, to look at every situation from the other's perspective, to do unto others as you would have done unto yourself.

No one is asking for you to abandon your beliefs, just respect each other. To not shove our beliefs unto one another, as we would not like that from others upon us. To build a common ground first, and address all issues civilly.

Above all else to build a better world not for us, as this will be a long journey ahead, but let us plant the mustard seed, nurture its growth so that one day our children and their children will sit under its shade, and enjoy life as common humanity, with multiple perspectives, but bound with a common love for one another's beliefs no matter how different they might be, in hopes that we can both meet in the middle one day with our heads held high towards Science, Coincidence, and God...

*"Come, let us return to the Lord. He has torn us to pieces, but he will heal us; he has injured us, but he will bind up our wounds.
After two days he will revive us; on the third day he will restore us, that we may live in his presence." Hosea 6:1-2*

"Therefore, since Christ suffered in his body, arm yourselves also with the same attitude, because whoever suffers in the body is done with sin. As a result, they do not live the rest of their earthly lives for evil human desires, but rather for the will of God." Peter 4:1-2

"Radiate boundless love towards the entire world – above, below, and across – unhindered, without ill will, and without enmity." Buddha

10. Family - Children

LOVE GOD

“Start children off on the way they should go, and even when they are old, they will not turn from it.” Proverbs 22:6

Most Important: Please understand that all that you do on a daily basis is observed and copied by your children and the children around you. With every choice You make, they see, hear, feel, and more... which will either help or destroy their future, because of your actions today! Generation after Generation.

They notice everything, even when you think they do not. The negative energy you bring home, after work, from life... is passed onto YOUR children, whether intentional or not, for energy flows freely, both positive or negative... especially to those that LOVE YOU! So, understand that You, as a human (most importantly as a parent), are laying the foundation to the future of our children, and their children, from generation to generation, what you do know will affect your name, your line, and humanity. Is that what you truly want for your line?

Do not be angered quickly, and if you are aware of your surroundings and do not dump your negative energy unto a child, let them not see, hear, or feel, even unknowingly. A child who only looks towards you for Love and understanding of this reality but instead finds only negative energy from the choices you have made... For that child will take your negative energy willingly, lovingly, and that foundation once set shall not break easily. For loving you and only want your happiness. Still, that negative energy will only disrupt that precious child's lifepath moving forward towards something you would not wish upon yourself or your worst enemy, and most definitely not your child, but there you are, negative day after day. Understand that it is up to you, always, and only you who can stop the flow of negative energy, and instead show positive, however difficult it is for you, find a different healthy alternative to release your neg... for it was You who God has entrusted with their care and light.

LOVE GOD

[Every child is different so no one can tell you what the right way is, these are just tips that might help some.

- As a parent, you should apologize to your children when you are wrong. Treat them like your equals, with the same respect. Discuss everything in your household together, as a team, of course, with a level of discretion in various topics.
- Learn from your children. Remember again...
- Be their friend first, parent last... and don't just say it, be it. From an early age let them know you are guided in their life path, give them advice, warnings, lessons from your life experiences with the hopeful intent that it will lead them to be wiser in their journey than you have been, but ultimately that this is their life, not yours and every choice they make will affect their lives, for the rest of their lives, maybe not now, but down the line, it will and make sure to repeat.

- Always let them know of ALL the life lessons you have learned, pass on that knowledge... do not be ashamed of it, for you are giving your children an advancement in their lives. (of course, with discretion and when it is age-appropriate)
- Your parenting guidance is only 50%, and the other 50% is through life experiences, which is in our Fathers Hands. (if you are their friend first, they will be more open with you for advice. Remember: Even if a Negative Emotion arises when you first see or hear, truly understand the perspective before you express your opinion.) Control...

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

LOVE GOD

- It is always better to hear the ugly truth than a beautiful lie, so make sure your children understand.
- If you argue, fight, consume, in fact, anything you do in front of your children, is a green light for your children to follow in your footsteps in their lives. Period. They will build upon that which they see...
- Goof around with your kids, be a kid yourself from time to time, it will only strengthen your bond.
- Make sure that your children from a very young age know that trust is a very fragile thing, and honesty is a must. But do not get caught in a lie time after time.
- Always use visual or stories, for children are more visual and love stories to understand through their imagination, and you must incorporate these for all lessons.
- If tough love is required, Do it! But afterward, let them know that it's for their best, and that's what tough love is for. Don't forget to be a parent where No means No and follow through no matter. Discipline with wise words, not unwise actions...

- As much as you can tell them you love them. Encourage them to push their limits, and as long as they honestly tell you, they did their best then support them but still encourage them to be better next time, every time, because their continuous improvement is for their own good.
- Always encourage them to learn at least one new thing every day.
- Most importantly, Love. Hug. Kiss. There will come a time when you will yearn for those precious moments, so enjoy them NOW! For tomorrow is never promised.
- And inevitably, when you catch yourself wrapped up back in life's dramas, remind yourself to stop and redirect back to Love.
- Life is sacred, and bringing life into this reality without having the adequate support structure to take care of that life is also a sin. For one sin opens the door to another and not just for the individual but communal sins which have been forgotten (this is another topic for another time). Act accordingly.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

- Discipline by words and action but never hurt, Teach.

Always remember whether it's abuse, addiction, anything... your child will register that as a normal thing, their foundation which they will build the rest of their lives on, and in turn pass that on to their children for generations to come. Take a moment and consider this very intimately... do you really want what you've endured and experienced in your life to become the "normal" foundation of their innocent lives, generation after generation?]

II. Family – Spouse

- Trust that it is after the valleys that love shall bind, stick through it together, and the bond will amaze you both at the end. Unfortunately, it is at this time most get a divorce, which in reality is the worst time. Please always consider these words in your life. Especially for your children.

- Fulfill each other's needs. Sacrifice. Forgive. Be open to everything. Become each other's best friend.

Understand.

"Anyone who does not provide for their relatives, and especially for their own household, has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever." 1 Timothy 5:8

11. Tools

“Be free from the love of money, be contented with such things as you have, for he has said, “I will in no way leave you, neither will I in any way forsake you.” Hebrews 13:5

Evil uses many tools to influence your life. Two of which are... Money and the Media...

A driving force in any society; however, left unchecked, they can become tools of destruction. Find and only work with those that are of the light, in those that build up.

Reflection: For the average person Wall Street has been purposefully manufactured to keep taking all of your money with false promises. In the end (if you were lucky to even make a profit for retirement), the amount made in relation to inflation amounts to nothing. Why do you give your hard-earned money to Wall Street Greed in hopes to afford a comfortable retirement in some unknown future, when you stress to live today. The entire concept of Wall Street is to make more money/profits off of You!

How do you think they will increase their profits every three months, quarter after quarter, year after year? By increasing Your prices, cutting Your pay and jobs year after year... so what cost you one dollar ($1) today (keep in mind you are living paycheck to paycheck right now), will cost one hundred ($100) when you retire. Just so they keep making more profits from you than the previous three months and it has to be more profits than the same three months of the previous year as well; otherwise your stock goes down and no more money/profit for your “comfortable” retirement... please take a moment to let that sink in... Seriously.

LOVE GOD

In truth, you are feeding that very same beast, that today is raising YOUR cost of living on everything! You are choosing to do this and causing You Anxiety and Depression today, so you can “possibly” retire in peace years from now. Pay off all your debts today, and enjoy tomorrow with a peace of mind. Be at peace now, not some unforeseen future. Invest in getting yourself out of debt first. Invest in yourself. It is your choice.

Keep in mind that it wasn't enough that Wall Street stole your retirement futures and homes in the 2008 depression to fill their pockets, but then our government felt the need to reward their greed, and supposedly bailed them out... out of what exactly you ask... Basically, our taxpayer dollars were used to bail them out of debt that they created paying themselves bonuses—money that could have gone to our healthcare, and our children's education. Yet, instead went into their pockets so they can continue to do unto themselves on our expense by purchasing our recently foreclosed homes, paying themselves more bonuses, and then turning our homes for higher rent and all for their personal retirement investment portfolio, not yours. Let's also thank them for significantly elevating home prices nationally, so average Americans can't afford a house without going into enormous debt (even more money into their pockets) mind you: all with their banks that we helped to save, just so they can continue their evil ways. All the while, we all suffer today. Shame on those who put taxes/pensions of hard-earned working humans into the belly of the beasts, and then claim there is nothing left in the coffers at the end for those in need, blinded by greed... manipulated by lies.

Side note: Why do these big corporations who make millions of profits every quarter, always end up getting bailed out of their debt, to save and to keep their business open with our taxpayer money (They are given Grants not loans, mind you) the small business owner never gets a free bailout (grant) to survive an economic downturn, when it's the small businesses that employ and drive our overall economy. Really consider this, we are the taxpayers that get no benefits when we truly need it, but these big businesses who already get major tax write-offs and don't even pay their fair share of taxes as it is, get our money to keep their business going so they can continue to make profits every quarter, without paying us back but instead charging us more, year after year. While that small business collapse, families destroyed. Enough is enough.]

Fight this darkness with Light. Wisdom comes from recognizing evil and choosing consciously not to feed the beast, not to suppress others for your gains, but instead, choose not to enforce evils will. If you feel what you do or if your work goes against the light, it is better to go hungry than further evil's cause. For our Father's judgment shall be swift.

You are their means to their end, not the other way around and when the time comes, they wouldn't think twice if you ended up on the streets, yet here you are giving your hard-earned money for them to live comfortably, while they sleep soundly in their mansions, yachts... and you suffer every day to survive. Just Stop, invest in yourself, and get out of debt, that's all it takes.

Thankfully there are some still among us who prefer to choose to do unto others as they would have done unto themselves, rather than line their pockets with the blood and tears of others. For even our Father through Lord Yeshua made it clear what money and greed's purpose were in this life and, most importantly, the next... Let's not mention their pride and greed in an endless competition to have more than their next-door neighbor, at whatever the cost, including you and your children's lives.

Self-Media - As the years come to pass, we are only further divided. And the final division is upon us... At first, dividing our humanity, by race, religion... Then we began to pretend with our friends & family (you know what I say is true, I'm speaking of the superficial fakeness we display daily towards each other, all of us are guilty) but recently the final divide has begun within ourselves with all these negative emotions (lies, anxiety, depression, etc.). This negative feeling within us all... has purposefully been encouraged, keeping us too distracted, too busy, so we don't have the time to process what is occurring until it has come to pass.

Do not let those who have egoist gains solely control our lives, our humanity, and our children's future. Do not encourage, promote, or value evil. Each generation is getting worse, not better in all fronts, Education, Health, and Quality of Life...

For just one example, at first, one household member could sustain a happy life for their entire family (Food, Shelter, Education, Vacation...) but now all adult members in the household are required just to survive (food, and shelter), no luxury but legalized slavery, tied to a debt not chains your whole life. One form or the other.

And now we are being manipulated by some media to glamorize having side jobs on top of all that... Drive an uber, do your passion... so that we can further line their pockets with every second of our lives. All the while living more and more in debt and making us point fingers at one another... for negative energy must flow. What's next, do our children need to work to pay the monthly bills, or has that also come to pass, and if that is the case, then what's next to live - evil? Do not become an enforcer of the dark... Is money more important than your soul?

"Don't be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what is the good, well-pleasing, and perfect will of God." Romans 12:2

"Indeed, God is with those who fear him and those who are doers of good." Quran 16:128

12. Sins and Virtues

"Do not judge, and you will not be judged. Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven. Give, and it will be given to you. A good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over, will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured to you." Luke 6:37-38

Regretfully, through other's sins, we do not see in the dark, until it's too late.

The way has been shown, original sin is forgiven through the ultimate sacrifice, and it is up to each of us to recognize and commit.

13. Levels

“For the word of God is living and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and is able to discern the thoughts and intentions of the heart.” Hebrews 4:12

Believe in that the closer or further you are from the light depends on the level you currently find yourself. It is easy to go down a mountain, quite another to climb, so be vigilant not to fall...

Reflections: I have come to terms with death and its nemesis life. It is just another state of being. Once you realize that the connection between these forces is universal, then life itself becomes continuous – in one form out the other... Never-ending... Ever forming... Infinite.

Want only through God. Do not try to find it elsewhere. Man will only manifest their desires onto others, never listening, as such negative abounds.

Wants unfulfilled. If what you want from a man is left unfulfilled, then look no further than God. Prove your faith. Do not compare yourself to others, but only unto yourself shall you judge.

Humanity. When we care for each other, it's heavenly. A wonder of tremendous proportions. Choose Love.

-Upon my death, I awoke.

Happiness is surrounding yourself with good people, those that make you stand up proud. Those that build you up not break you down.

All became One became All.

We seed the devil having lived.

We harden. Only to break. Pieces in the dust.

This world has become a shadow of itself.

The meaning of life is to give life a meaning.

It's truest essence lost but not forgotten...

Join the call to light.

-Life given, stranger souls, tearful woes.

Choice driven, highs and lows...

May God's Grace, Light, Love, Mercy be with us all,

Amen.

-As the winter begins, we must draw near

To forgive all, and to start anew

Past the difficulties together

With hopes for tomorrow...

Love, Help, Heal
